BRIDE OBJECTED TO THE STORM

HEAVY RAINS ON THE NIGHT OF MAY YOUNG'S WEDDING IN OAKLAND.

"Town Talk" publishes the following gossip about the May Young wedding in Oakland:

It was a toss-up whether there should be a wedding out at beautiful "Rosecrest," the home of the Alexander Youngs, in Piedmont, Oakland, last Thursday night or not. The bride, a delicate and sensitive girl, is not given to superstitions of any kind. But there is one thing that she has always declared by doing, and that is marrying in bad weather. It had been intended to have the ceremony in October, but because of the fact that there might be a storm on that date the earlier date was chosen. And then came the worst storm of the year just as the bride prepared to have her veil pinned in place. Really, it did look as though some malevolent spirit were preparing an unfortunate life for the two. I hear that May refused positively to let the ceremony go on and over one hundred guests awaiting the bridal procession. Mr. Young was obliged to go to his daughter's room to add his entreaties to those of the amused bridesmaids. It required all his strategy to convince the bride that a divorce was not the necessary aftermath of a wedding performed beneath lowering skies. Finally his banter won. The procession down the fine old stairway was a picture in itself. The gowns stood out well against the deep old rose of the paneled hall, and as they entered the French drawing-room the tones of the pale mauve tinted walls and ceilings, where tiny clustered Loves held pendant wreaths of roses, seemed to fit into the scene, so well had the color scheme been planned. I wish that you might have heard the "poem" that Alexander Young wrote in honor of his youngest daughter. It was, in the language of the street, "a peach."

VOTER'S LISTS NOW CLOSED

OAHU BOARD OF REGISTRATION FINISHED ITS WORK SATURDAY—INCREASE OF 265 VOTERS.

The voters' register for the island of Oahu was closed at midnight on Saturday, the result being that there is an increase in the number of voters since 1902 of 265. This year's registration shows 6631 on the roll as against 6366 two years ago. The total number of applications was 6748 but 117 of these were cancelled leaving the net registration as recorded—6631.

By districts the result was:
Fourth District.....3508
Fifth District.....3123

Total.....6631

The last two to register on Saturday were Registrar Pianaia of the Fifth and Chairman Rawlins of the Fourth. The night session of the board of registration, contrary to expectation, was very quiet.

ARTHUR HARRIS RETURNS.

Arthur Harris, who left Honolulu as a stowaway some months ago and got over to Shanghai, returned Saturday on the transport Logan. He is understood to have been the man who informed local people that Frank Woodbridge was aboard the transport trying to get through to the mainland. Harris stowed away on the Logan.

STOWAWAY WAS DROWNED.

Three Japanese stowaways, deserters from the Japanese army, boarded the transport Sheridan at Nagasaki on her last homeward trip. They were aboard the vessel being taken back to Nagasaki yesterday while the vessel was docking at the Naval wharf, two of them jumped overboard and clung on to the stern of the vessel. When the vessel began to back one of them was sucked under by the whirl of water stirred up by the propeller and either hit by the propeller and killed or else drowned. The second man escaped being drowned.

CATHOLIC FEAST.

WAILUKU, Oct. 8.—The feast of the Lady of Our Rosary was celebrated by the Catholics of Paila, Hamakua, and surrounding districts last Sunday. There was a very large gathering at the church grounds at Kapa, the Wailuku Brass Band adding largely to the success of the occasion.

About one hundred children received First Communion, after which they were treated to an elaborate spread. Special trains ran from Kihel, Wailuku, Puunene and Spreckelsville, carrying people to the scene of festivities.

POLITICS ON MAUI.

WAILUKU, Oct. 8.—The Republican candidates for the Legislature have been on Molokai during the week, while the Home Rule-Democratic aggregation have followed the tracks of the Republicans in the Hana district. As a consequence Wailuku has been rather quiet, enjoying a much needed rest. A large canvass bearing the portrait of Prince Kuhio has been hung up between Kihel's office and Kimura's saloon. This canvass also bears the names of the Republican candidates from this district, and is the work of J. A. Harris, the local sign painter.

Kuropatkin is reported as "cheerful and wholly satisfied with the situation." Kuropatkin would make Colonel Sellers look like a calamity shouter.—Washington Post.

PHILIP NAONE KILLS HIS WIFE

DOMESTIC TROUBLES CULMINATE LAST SATURDAY NIGHT IN A TRAGEDY.

Philip Naone shot and killed his wife Saturday night about 6:45 o'clock in their home, corner of South Street and Kwaiahao lane.

Naone and his wife had been quarreling on Saturday. In the morning they had had a quarrel and she left the place and went to a Mrs. Larson's home nearby. Naone left the house also and returned and inquired of his mother, who lived with them, where his wife was. The mother told him she had gone to the Larson's, so Naone went out and met his wife on the street and a second quarrel ensued. They returned to the Naone house about 5 o'clock and the man left the place and returned about 6:45 o'clock. He found his wife at the mother in the house, the old elder woman helping to put his two little children to bed. Naone, revolver in hand, entered the large room where his wife was, and said, "Lizzie, I am going to kill you." He raised the gun and pointed the weapon at her. She ran screaming into another room to where her mother-in-law was, Naone followed and shot his wife, the bullet striking her left shoulder. He fired two more shots at the woman and when his mother struggled to prevent his shooting his wife again, the infuriated man fought and shot twice more at the body of his wife.

Joseph A. Lawelawe, who is employed as a warehouseman for E. O. Hall & Son, entered at this time and grappling with the murderer took the gun away from him. Lawelawe did not make any attempt to arrest the murderer, however, but allowed him to escape.

Naone went at once to the residence of his sister, Mrs. E. K. Rathburn, at 918 Punchbowl street, and there informed his relatives that he had killed his wife, and he wanted Rathburn to help him. He was advised to surrender himself to the authorities. Naone replied that he would do so, and left the house, but before going away, handed Mrs. Rathburn four letters with the request that they be delivered. Two of the letters were to Miss Keahloa Naimu, the sister of the murdered woman, and gave her the things belonging to himself and his murdered wife. Naone also stated that he intended to take his life and the life of his wife. Both of the letters were dated October 8. A third letter was to M. P. Robinson relating to some land that Naone had mortgaged to him. This land was bequeathed to Robinson in order to prevent the necessity of its being sold at auction. Robinson was asked to put the two children of Naone into school. The last letter was addressed to Rev. H. H. Parker of Kawaiahao Church and stated his intention of taking his life and that of his wife, and asking that he be pardoned. All of the letters were written in the Hawaiian language and were rambling.

Naone claims that after leaving the Rathburn place he was driving about in a Japanese hack until early yesterday morning. This statement is not credited by the police. A reward of $50 was offered by the High Sheriff for the apprehension of the murderer. Mounted Officer Barney Joy saw Naone near the Honolulu Iron Works during the night and chased after him, but the murderer escaped over a fence. Early yesterday morning Holt captured Naone in the house of John Naone at 2001 Pauoa road, who is an uncle of the murderer. Naone, the murderer, made no attempt to resist arrest but willingly accompanied the officer. When questioned by the High Sheriff yesterday, Naone claimed to be somewhat clouded in memory, and from his action, gave the officers the impression that he proposed to try the insane dodge. Naone claimed that the reason he had killed his wife was because she had gone on Saturday to the police station to have him arrested for assault and battery and had been advised to return on Monday to have the warrant issued. This statement by Naone is denied by Deputy High Sheriff Chillingworth.

An autopsy performed on the dead woman by Dr. C. B. Wood showed that the stomach and heart were both perforated and a bullet had passed through both the aorta and the large vein leading from the heart. Any one of these wounds would have caused death. Three wounds were found back of the left shoulder and two in the left side. One bullet was found near the heart, one in the skin at the right side and one fell out of the dress.

The funeral of the murdered woman was held yesterday afternoon and was attended by a large crowd. Naone had figured several times recently in the police court. He was tried August 6 on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. It was alleged that while in the employ of the United States Quarantine Service, he had taken money from Japanese with which to secure them steamer tickets to San Francisco. He furthermore collected, it was claimed, $25 from them as alleged interest due on an alleged $200 deposit which he was required to make. The police claimed that no deposit had ever been made or required. The defendant was discharged for want of evidence.

Again in September Naone caused the arrest of David Kamal on the charge of attempted rape of Mrs. Naone. The mother of Naone testified, however, that no such assault as alleged had occurred, and that it had been Naone and not Kamal who had beaten his wife. The defendant was discharged and evidence tending to show Naone guilty of conspiracy was presented to the Grand Jury. On September 12 Naone was caught beating his wife and was arrested but not prosecuted.
